The flu nose jab: how does it work? By Kate

On Monday 21st October, many pupils of Harefield Primary School had the yearly flu nose jab. One year 5 said 'the flu nose jab does nothing', because her friend's said that her brother's class had it 'and later half of the class were off sick'. We investigated how the vaccine works.

The NHS website says the flu vaccine can take up to 14 days to work. It is important that you take the flu nose spray every year since it is updated every year. Side effects include

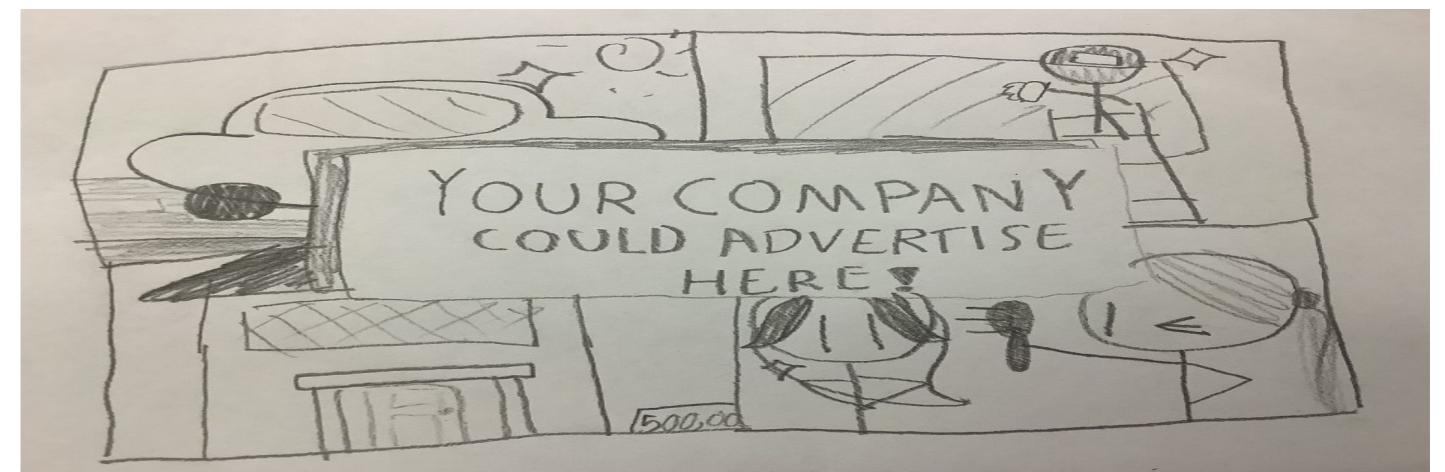

- A blocked or runny nose
- Loss of appetite
- Feeling tired
- A headache

However, it says that you cannot get flu directly from the vaccines! There is a chance that you might get flu even after vaccination, but you're less likely to get seriously ill.

Karate Club: what is it? By Emily

Karate = self defence. You could get red, yellow, orange, 2nd orange, green, 2nd green, blue coloured belts, and lots more if you do grading.

Grading = karate test. Grading happens every 2 months when you get a new coloured belt and get to learn more stuff. You could join Karate club after school. Our teacher changes every year, also if we are good we have a game at the end. Karate is so much fun so join if you want!

Roblox

By staff reporters: Kate and Sara

Roblox helps you with your wrist and has family—friendly games and you can play with your friends and talk to them. There is also if it is Christmas or something they add or change something Christmassy. Also you can talk to your family if they live far away. People all around the world play this game and you can too. Also, you can make your own game. In fact, lots of people make games all around the world. Playing the games is really fun, you can even make a private server. Roblox is fun because it is more than one game, unlike other apps.

'So basically, Roblox is kinda a scam because every time I want to play it, it says I have to download it' - Olivia

Roblox has many sorts of games—such as RPs (example Brookhaven), stories (example Cruise: Story), Obbies (example You Can't Jump Obby), Fighting (example: BloxFruits) and many, many more! In RPs, you can claim a house, drive a car, get a job and much more. In fighting games, you basically just fight. In Obbies, you have to beat the obby and there's usually some sort of paradise.

If you want to know the best sort of games, as someone whose had Roblox for years. Roblox does some boring games but it's fun and healthy. I hope you play it!

Top 5 games

1. Dress to impress

A dressing up game with voting at the end to decide who wins

2. Brookhaven

3. Adopt me

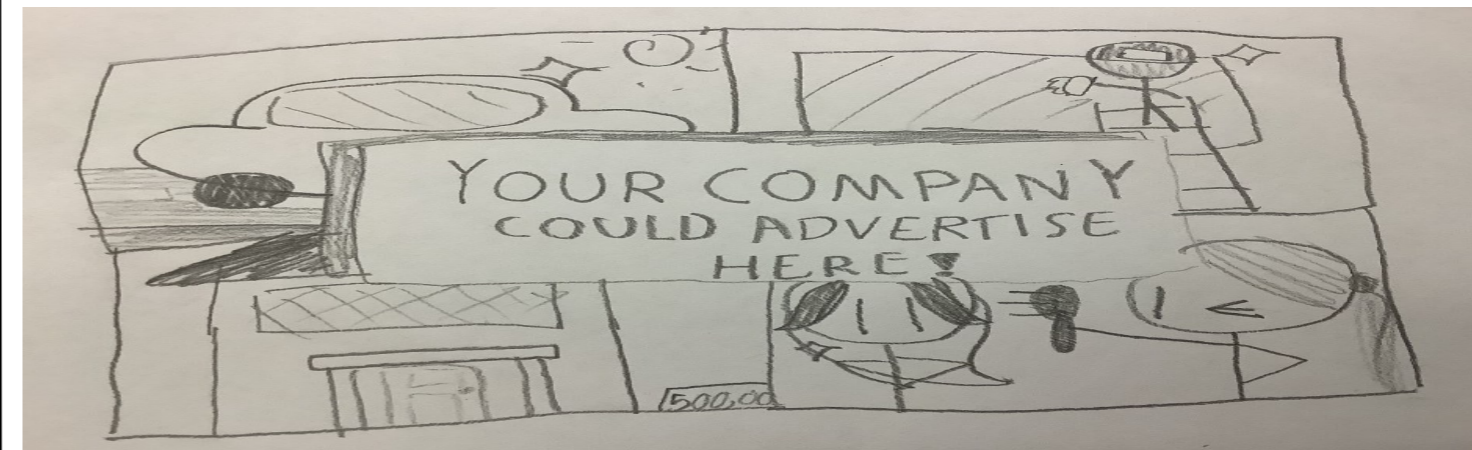

A game where you collect pets and trade them

4. Berry Avenue

A roleplay game in a neighbourhood, similar to Brookhaven

5. Obbies

A game where you can do various challenges

Inside Out 2 review By Sara

Hello everyone, and welcome to Harefield Scoops! Today I will be reviewing Inside Out 2.

I admit that the movie was so good that I watched it 3 times. Back when the original movie came out, I was just a few months old. But I actually watched it when I was 7. I didn't really understand what it really meant until I installed Disney+ and I finally understood it. It meant it's okay to not be happy.

When I watched Newsround on January 1 this year, Inside Out 2 was announced. I was over the moon that a new version was coming out. It seemed a bit weird that Riley gets new emotions in puberty. Wouldn't she just get them naturally? But then I realised everyone changed, they have too. If they don't, would the world have balance? But just to make sure I waited until there was news. Apparently, it hit office box records, whatever that means. So I begged my parents to take me. Now that I've watched it, I totally get why anyone would make it. Now let's get in to details.

First, the understandable details. Joy says "Riley's a teenager and everything is great."

And she is wrong, because Riley enters something called puberty. Builders destroy everything, and four emotions come out of nowhere: Anxiety, Envy, Embarrassment, and Ennui (boredom or sarcastic). Technically Nostalgia, but she's just used as a prop. Anxiety decides the old emotions aren't needed anymore, and kicks them out of headquarters. So, the old emotions have to stop Anxiety from changing Riley forever.

In the first movie, Fear, Anger and Disgust were used more like background characters. But, in the second one, they do much more, so they aren't background characters.

Now let's talk about Riley's emotions.

Let's start with the old ones. Joy is always determined to make Riley who she is, especially in this new one. She can be mad or sad, but mostly happy. She's basically the leader, most focused. Sadness has a little less focus, though she and Joy have become good friends. She is one of the most interesting. Anger can be sarcastic a little of the time, but he's never got too much rage. Sometimes he can be supportive. Disgust, well, I think she overreacts even more than Anger. Not much to say about her. Fear is the most minor of the group, he can be safe and funny at the same time.

Now we should talk about the new emotions.

Envy is pretty interesting. She's kinda like a replacement for Joy. She really supports Anxiety. Anxiety wanted to change Riley in the film. She wanted her to become a Fire Hawk... she was really ambitious. Embarrassment is really nervous and hides himself in his hoodie... but is brave sometimes. Ennui is the minor of the group, she pretty much does nothing. She just lays on the couch all day, controlling the console with her phone.

My rating for the movie is 85/100. I hope you watch the movie!
